

THE NAILSWORTH SOCIETY: ARTS, CRAFTS AND MUSIC GROUP

Monday 4th September at 7.30pm in the Mortimer Room

PAINTING THE PAST: BATH BEFORE JANE AUSTEN

by Allan Phillipson

Many people associate Bath with its Georgian heyday, particularly the novels of Jane Austen. This talk examines the literature and social history that came before, beginning with the Roman foundations. Discover what the Anglo-Saxons thought of the hot springs, find out where the Wife of Bath lived, and examine the first flush toilet.

Members £1. Visitors £3. Refreshments included.